

INTERCARGO

International Association of Dry Cargo Shipowners

Uniting and promoting quality dry bulk shipping

About us

The International Association of Dry Cargo Shipowners (INTERCARGO) is the voice of the world's quality dry cargo shipowners, managers, and operators. We have represented the unique interests of the sector at the International Maritime Organization (IMO) for nearly thirty years.

Membership of INTERCARGO is widely seen as a badge of quality throughout the industry.

INTERCARGO stands at the forefront of the challenges faced by the dry bulk sector, enabling its members to keep ahead of industry issues. We provide a specialist forum for dialogue on key topics and regulatory challenges, especially in relation to safety, the environment, and operational excellence. Our Association takes forward our members' positions to the IMO, as well as to other shipping and international industry fora, having free and fair competition as a principle.

The industry expertise within INTERCARGO has positioned us at the centre of the environmental agenda, and the Association is spearheading a number of key initiatives aimed at supporting IMO in its decarbonisation targets and ambitions.

Our members

INTERCARGO connects dry bulk operators and service providers around the world. Our membership comprises more than 250 companies operating globally.

INTERCARGO is committed to safety and quality in ship operations, with a focus on operational efficiency and the protection of the marine environment.

Why join us?

INTERCARGO members gain access to cross-industry sources of knowledge and engage in drafting strategy for both the dry bulk and the wider shipping industry via INTERCARGO events and our participation in IMO deliberations, and industry working and correspondence groups. These include the Round Table of International Shipping Associations, IACS (International Association of Classification Societies) meetings, and other key industry fora. INTERCARGO and RightShip are founding partners of DryBMS, a quality standard for the dry bulk sector, which has been developed in consultation with the INTERCARGO membership.

Statistics show that INTERCARGO-entered vessels significantly outperform the rest of the global dry bulk fleet and the industry averages in terms of quality and efficiency of operations.

In addition, all members benefit from:

- Being part of a respected global body dedicated to quality, safety and the environment.
- Regular member circulars providing unique insights into the latest industry specific developments.
- Promotional, networking, and experience sharing opportunities with fellow members around the world.
- Priority access to INTERCARGO publications.
- Opportunities to present at the Association's events.

Additional benefits for Full Members

- Members' vessels registered with INTERCARGO are recognised as setting the industry quality standard.
- Participation in the Association's Committees.
- Access to industry benchmarking reports.
- Recognition on industry quality platforms for ships entered with INTERCARGO.
- Full access to members' areas of the Association's website: www.intercargo.org.
- Input into industry reporting schemes.

Our work

Although a number of topics on INTERCARGO's agenda are of broader concern to international shipping as a whole, our role is to represent our members and review them from the angle of dry bulk shipping, bringing forward solutions that correspond to the special characteristics of the sector.

We focus on:
